9th Orchid Short Course

March 11-12, 2016
University of Florida Presents:
Survey of Orchids – ORH 1283

Emerson Alumni Hall
UF Campus, Gainesville, FL

A one-credit course offered by the Environmental Horticulture Department. Open to all UF students, the course is delivered by guest lecturers with extensive experience in orchid biology and production.

Topics covered include, among others:

- Orchid history and classification
- Orchid production and propagation
- Orchid flowers and pollination
- Orchid pests and diseases
- Specific orchids of commercial interest
- You can still add this course up to March 10th in ISIS! Look for Section 2H18.

For more information:
Dr. Wagner Vendrame, Instructor
Email: vendrame@ufl.edu Phone: 786-217-9236
Mrs. Amy Alexander, Academic Program Coordinator
Email: amyalexander@ufl.edu Phone: 352-273-4573